

PERSONAL INFORMATION

📍 Viktor Fleischer, born in 1979, is expert for vocational education and training (VET) in the Federation of Austrian Industries (IV). After graduating from a college of commercial higher VET, he studied sociology, political science and religious science at the University of Vienna. Then Viktor worked for a private research facility as a scientific expert for Austrian and international VET and is now part of the IV-staff since 2015. In the IV, Viktor is responsible for the whole field of initial VET and career guidance as well as the strategic development of qualified migration. At the moment, Viktors main focus is on extending the attractiveness of the dual apprenticeship system, maintaining the high standard of Austrians technical VET colleges and exploring innovative models of migration into the Austrian labour market.

Current position

Expert for VET and skills

Federation of Austrian Industries, Austria, Vienna